

7 Benefits of a KidLead Training Program in your School

1. You can rest assured you're providing the very finest leadership training, with the added potential of generating revenue for this value-added service.
2. You reduce classroom disruptions as natural leaders learn to use their influence constructively.
3. You are likely to attract families and/or potential donors in the community who understand and value leadership development in addition to good academics.
4. You cultivate experienced leaders for your upper grades and who are positive influencers of younger students.
5. You gain reputation in your community as a schools that develops exceptional leaders, more attractive to other schools and colleges.
6. You give your young leaders a 10-20 year head start on others. These alumni are likely to remain indebted for this training they received.
7. You gain public relations opportunities as young leaders lead community service projects they design out of their training experience.